

HEARTLANDS
COMMUNITY TRUST

CURRENT MEMBERSHIP & SUB COMMITTEES

CURRENT MEMBERSHIP & SUB COMMITTEES

Heartlands Community Trust Members

Nick Chambers Jeff Twentyman Sian Roberts

Heartlands Community Trust Directors

Joe Dilger Chair Simon Garrill CEO Sian Roberts Rebecca Boyle Suh Jeff Twentyman Judith Gainsborough Adrian Cojocar Omar Majid Vacancy

Heartlands High School Local Governing Body

Toby Castle (Interim chair) Elen Roberts Head of School

Craig Pattinson Anna Douglas

Nofer Fari (Staff) Cecilia Dosu

Maxine Apcher (Parent) Neil Thompson (Parent)

The Grove Local Advisory Board

Judith Gainsborough (Chair) Lucia Santi Head of School

Tracey Chippendale-Holmes Martin Doyle

Vacancy Vacancy (Parent)

Vacancy (Parent) Vacancy (Staff)

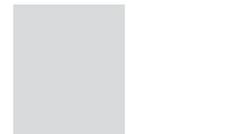

Finance & Resources Committee (incorporating Audit)

Simon Garrill Joe Dilger (Vice Chair)

Craig Pattinson Adrian Cojocar

Omar Majid

HEARTLANDS COMMUNITY TRUST MEMBERS

Nick Chambers

Nick Chambers is the CEO of the Charity, Education and Employers. The charity runs Inspiring the Future and its Primary Futures and Inspiring Women campaigns programme and undertakes research into the effectiveness of employer engagement. Prior to joining the Taskforce, Nick was Director of Education at Business in the Community. During this time, he oversaw the production of a report on school governance with the University of Bath on behalf of the National Council of Education Excellence. The council, chaired by the Prime Minister considered how best to mobilise businesses and universities to work with schools and colleges, and to promote links between schools to contribute to raising standards and achieving educational excellence. Between 2000 and 2006 he was Director of Development at a leading independent school in London where he was responsible with the Governors for reviewing and articulating the school's vision as it approached its 500th anniversary and developing a strategic plan to achieve this. Nick originally studied Environmental Management and then ran his own business as well as being involved with various charities. In 1992 he obtained a PGCE and taught in an 11–16 comprehensive school and an 11–18 grammar school. In 1997 he was appointed Development Director at the state school in Lancashire where he had been teaching in – the first appointment of its kind in the UK where his responsibilities included employer engagement.

Sian Roberts

Sian is Chief Executive of Electoral Reform Services Group, the UK's leading independent supplier of digital and postal ballot and election solutions and a major local employer in Haringey. After becoming Chief Executive of ERS in 2010 and with over 20 years' experience of elections, Sian's objective is to deliver the strategic vision for the organisation in an industry sector which resides both in the traditional print and mail environment and also in the constantly evolving world of new digital technology. Sian has election experience in both the public and private sectors and has been involved in the practical translation of ballot legislation. Sian has a clear focus on continuing to build upon ERS's success, providing innovative, market-leading solutions to the ever-changing requirements of its clients.

Jeff Twentyman

Jeff joined corporate law firm Slaughter and May in 1989 and became a partner in 1998. He is now Head of their Private Equity Group. He has served as a member of their Partnership Board and Audit Committee and as Chairman of their Environment Committee. He undertakes a broad range of corporate and commercial work for both corporate and private equity clients, advising on acquisitions and disposals, joint ventures, mergers and public takeovers, flotations and equity capital markets and private equity investment. He was listed as one of Chambers' Top 100 Lawyres for the UK in 2013. Jeff is also currently chairman of the fundraising committee for Friends of the Earth.

HEARTLANDS COMMUNITY TRUST DIRECTORS

Joe Dilger, Chair

Joe is an Educational Governance and Enterprise Consultant, training, advising and supporting Governing Bodies of a range of schools, academies and multi academy trusts. He is a former Head of Governance for Oasis Community Learning, where he led and managed governance in a Trust growing from 3 to 12 academies.

Simon Garrill, CEO

Simon has a long career in education in North London schools. He started as an English teacher at Hendon School before moving on to become a Head of English and then an Assistant Headteacher at Broomfield School in Enfield. After working as a Deputy Headteacher at Haverstock School in Camden, he started at Heartlands High School in April 2009 and was involved in the conception of the School from the design phase. As Headteacher, Simon is an ex-officio member of the Governing Body and a member of the Standards & Achievement Committee and Finance & General Purposes Committee. Simon has a degree in English and History, has three children and in his spare time he enjoys the outdoors, music, and reading.

Sian Roberts

Sian is Chief Executive of Electoral Reform Services Group, the UK's leading independent supplier of digital and postal ballot and election solutions and a major local employer in Haringey. After becoming Chief Executive of ERS in 2010 and with over 20 years' experience of elections, Sian's objective is to deliver the strategic vision for the organisation in an industry sector which resides both in the traditional print and mail environment and also in the constantly evolving world of new digital technology. Sian has election experience in both the public and private sectors and has been involved in the practical translation of ballot legislation. Sian has a clear focus on continuing to build upon ERS's success, providing innovative, market-leading solutions to the ever-changing requirements of its clients.

Rebecca Boyle Suh

Rebecca established Artis, a social business dedicated to transforming education through the arts, in 2004. The Company has steadily grown and now reaches 40,000 children every week in 200 primary schools across the UK with a panel of 150 highly trained arts educators. Rebecca is a keen advocate of integrating the arts throughout learning, so the Artis programme is strongly linked to both the curriculum and school priorities. Rebecca has a depth of knowledge and understanding about primary education and the challenges of school leadership given she visits around 100 headteachers in their schools every year to discuss their priorities. Before Artis, Rebecca spent 7 years at an international arts management company, working in New York, London and Paris collaborating with acclaimed performing artists, managing their careers, negotiating their contracts and organising special projects. As a Fulbright scholar at Yale University, Rebecca earned a master's degree in musicology, and prior to that a first class bachelor's degree in music from Goldsmiths College, London University.

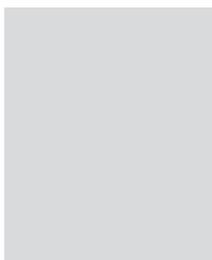

Jeff Twentyman

Jeff joined corporate law firm Slaughter and May in 1989 and became a partner in 1998. He is now Head of their Private Equity Group. He has served as a member of their Partnership Board and Audit Committee and as Chairman of their Environment Committee. He undertakes a broad range of corporate and commercial work for both corporate and private equity clients, advising on acquisitions and disposals, joint ventures, mergers and public takeovers, flotations and equity capital markets and private equity investment. He was listed as one of Chambers' Top 100 Lawyses for the UK in 2013. Jeff is also currently chairman of the fundraising committee for Friends of the Earth.

Judith Gainsborough

Judith has had a long career and extensive experience in education, particularly with regard to the inclusion of children and young people with special educational needs and also school improvement. She is a qualified teacher and was Principal Educational Psychologist and Head of Specialist Inclusion Services in the London Borough of Barnet. She was, for many years, involved in ensuring that schools and families benefited from effective special needs services and interventions. She formed partnerships with parents and carers, schools and the voluntary sector to develop a shared vision of best inclusive practice for children on the Autism spectrum and drove the development of Autism provision in Barnet including the preschool service that provides support and expertise in the home and educational setting. She is chair of the management group of the national Educational Psychology Autism Special Interest Group, which organises a national conference for Educational Psychologists.

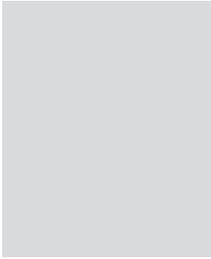

Adrian Cojocaru

Adrian Cojocaru's career spans over 25 years of various HR roles and reflects a diverse experience base acquired across various industries, geographies and organisational set-ups.

Adrian was the Managing Director in charge of the Human Resources function at the European Bank for Reconstruction and Development (EBRD), where he was responsible for providing HR leadership across the EBRD, leading the development and implementation of the HR Strategy in partnership with the Bank's broader corporate leadership group as well as advising the senior management of the Bank and members of the Board of Directors on all matters related to HR. Previously he was Chief Human Resources Officer and a member of the Executive Committee of OC Oerlikon, a major Swiss global industrial group, where he was accountable for the HR strategy, organisation, systems and processes of the company which had over 17,000 employees across 38 countries of operation.

Adrian has spent his entire career in HR and has held significant positions in Unilever, Mars Inc, Reader's Digest, and LG Electronics. He began his career with Coca-Cola. At various times he has lived and worked in Romania, Austria, The Netherlands, United States, United Arab Emirates, Switzerland and United Kingdom.

Omar Majid

HEARTLANDS HIGH SCHOOL LOCAL GOVERNING BODY

Toby Castle, Interim Chair

Toby is currently Head of Home News at ITV News, having worked across ITV news' home and foreign operations since joining ITN in 1999, and having previously worked for Tyne Tees Television. He lives on Station Road opposite the School and was involved in Heartlands 'before a brick was laid on the site'. He is committed to ensure that the School supports pupils to achieve their potential, and that the local area benefits from the presence of the School. Toby is also a mentor for the John Schofield Trust, a voluntary charity that provides support for young journalists. Away from his professional life, Toby spends his weekends riding his bike watching Middlesbrough FC. He is a member of the Finance & General Purposes Committee.

Elen Roberts, Head of School

Elen has over 10 years experience in leadership within North London Schools. She started as an English teacher at Park View School before moving on to become a Head of English at Broomfield School in Enfield. She started at Heartlands High School in April 2010 as an Assistant Headteacher and was involved in the development of the school prior to opening. Elen has a degree in Cultural Studies and Literature, as well as a Masters in Educational Leadership.

Craig Pattinson

Craig is a Senior Executive with HSBC, with leadership experience across Asia, Europe, the Middle East and the US. He is currently Senior Area Commercial Director with HSBC UK based in the City of London.

Anna Douglas

Anna is Deputy Principal, Curriculum & Quality at City and Islington College. She has extensive management and curriculum leadership experience in post 16/Sixth form college environment. She has previously worked in teacher training and in two Higher Education institutions: as a Lecturer in Citizenship at the Institute of Education, University of London and Course Tutor for PGCE Social Science at Goldsmiths, University of London. Anna holds a PGCE and MA English Studies in Education, Developing conceptual understanding in history and politics teaching. She had a particular interest in researching different theories of education and explored the relevance of socio-cultural and situated learning theory to practical classroom activities. She also holds a degree from the University of York in History and Politics, International Relations and Affairs and History.

Maxine Apcher, Parent

Maxine is a parent governor and has a professional background working in Education for over 20 years. She is currently a Senior Leader in a primary school in Hackney and is committed to raising standards and ensuring that all children achieve excellence through access to high quality teaching and learning. Maxine has over six years experience of being a governor at another school and values the important role that governors can play in recruiting and retaining outstanding staff. Her personal interests include music, singing in a choir, board games, world cinema and travelling.

Nofer Fari, Staff

Head of Pegasus, Lead Teacher for Year 7 with responsibility for Transition • MFL and Maths Teacher. • Grew up in Hornsey, went to Downhills Primary in Tottenham, Highgate Wood Secondary School and then Woodhouse College. • Studied French and Spanish at The University of Cambridge (Masters Level) • Studied Philosophy in Paris at the Ecole Normale Supérieure. • Masters in Educational Leadership from Warwick University. • Currently completing the NPQSL (National Professional Qualifications of Senior Leaders). • Joined the teaching profession through TeachFirst. Teaching for 7 years Always taught in challenging inner city schools: In Birmingham (including last year as 2ic in MFL), in Islington (as Head of House and lead teacher on Stretch and Challenge/gifted and talented education) and in Haringey. • In school Leadership for 5 years. • Taken part extensively in a range of student-focused external opportunities for developing aspirations and broadening horizons, such as NCS the Challenge, Summer schools, university placements, young people mentoring, Orchestras, Sports Clubs, etc • Particular interest in Education as a means for social mobility and as social capital, fully committed to ensuring that young people understand this and its implications and are provided with the opportunities to fulfil potential and succeed.

Cecilia Dosu

Cecilia grew up in Haringey and went to St Francis de Sales Junior School. She is a civil servant with experience in international development and project management and has just completed an MSc in Global Governance and Ethic at UCL. For Cecilia social mobility is an important cause and she has a particular desire to see society provide realistic but ambitious pathways for young people, and for young people to maximise the opportunities available to them, engaging positively in their local communities and beyond. She has worked to build connections between the public sector and secondary schools acting as a mentor on the NCS, working through corporate contribution projects, as well as the 'Inspiring the Future' initiative. Understanding the power of role models, she hopes to make use of the skills and perspective from her own personal experiences in education and the work place.

Neil Thompson, Parent

Neil is the sole owner and managing director of a small digital production company called Alternative View Studios.

During the past 20 years we have worked extensively in the education sector developing KS2 Bitesize Maths, English and Science activities for the BBC, animations for geog.123 for Oxford University Press and Penpals for Handwriting for Cambridge University Press. We also created a 30 episode animation for CBeebies called Tommy Zoom.

Over the past couple of years we have developed a close relationship with Liverpool CAMHS and have made apps on resilience and animations on subjects such as anxiety, neurodevelopmental conditions and eating disorders. These tools are used to help train teachers and social workers on the difficulties young people with mental health problems face.

We have worked with Medical Aid Films for 10 years producing films on subjects like Ebola, malaria and respectful maternity care in numerous languages including Swahili, Yoruba, Shona and Kannada.

Neil has also worked for BBC Media Action in Tunisia helping Libyan exiles tell their stories through animation.

THE GROVE LOCAL ADVISORY BOARD

Judith Gainsborough, Chair

Judith has had a long career and extensive experience in education, particularly with regard to the inclusion of children and young people with special educational needs and also school improvement. She is a qualified teacher and was Principal Educational Psychologist and Head of Specialist Inclusion Services in the London Borough of Barnet. She was, for many years, involved in ensuring that schools and families benefited from effective special needs services and interventions. She formed partnerships with parents and carers, schools and the voluntary sector to develop a shared vision of best inclusive practice for children on the Autism spectrum and drove the development of Autism provision in Barnet including the preschool service that provides support and expertise in the home and educational setting. She is chair of the management group of the national Educational Psychology Autism Special Interest Group, which organises a national conference for Educational Psychologists.

Lucia Santi, Head of School

Lucia has spent the large part of her career within special educational needs, working in the London boroughs of Camden and Barnet. She developed an interest in working with young people with an autism diagnosis early in her career and this inspired her to specialise within the field. Whilst working in Camden, as autism lead in an SEN school, Lucia led and developed the autism provision which soon gained autism accreditation status. More recently Lucia set up an independent school in Barnet which met the needs of young people diagnosed with high functioning autism. A successful school which also gained autism accreditation status and quickly became oversubscribed. Lucia has worked for autism accreditation conducting reviews and providing support to other services, she has worked extensively with professionals and therapists and has a particular interest in supporting the well-being and mental health of young people on the autism spectrum.

Tracey Chippendale-Holmes

Tracey Chippendale-Holmes is a senior in-house solicitor specializing in company and charity law. As well as managing the legal affairs of global charitable foundations and major projects, Tracey has responsibility for corporate governance, contracting and business ethics. Tracey has lectured part-time and provided in-house legal training. In her spare time, Tracey provides pro-bono legal support at a public drop-in centre on all areas of English law and assists parents with their children's SEND challenges.

Martin Doyle

FINANCE & RESOURCES COMMITTEE (INCORPORATING AUDIT)

Simon Garrill

Simon has a long career in education in North London schools. He started as an English teacher at Hendon School before moving on to become a Head of English and then an Assistant Headteacher at Broomfield School in Enfield. After working as a Deputy Headteacher at Haverstock School in Camden, he started at Heartlands High School in April 2009 and was involved in the conception of the School from the design phase. As Headteacher, Simon is an ex-officio member of the Governing Body and a member of the Standards & Achievement Committee and Finance & General Purposes Committee. Simon has a degree in English and History, has three children and in his spare time he enjoys the outdoors, music, and reading.

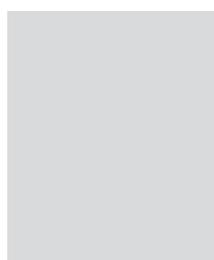

Joe Dilger, Vice Chair

Joe is an Educational Governance and Enterprise Consultant, training, advising and supporting Governing Bodies of a range of schools, academies and multi academy trusts. He is a former Head of Governance for Oasis Community Learning, where he led and managed governance in a Trust growing from 3 to 12 academies.

Craig Pattinson

Craig is a Senior Executive with HSBC, with leadership experience across Asia, Europe, the Middle East and the U.S. He is currently Senior Area Commercial Director with HSBC UK based in the City of London.

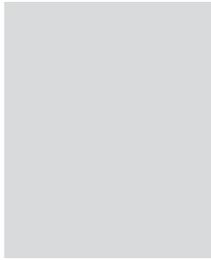

Adrian Cojocaru

Adrian Cojocaru's career spans over 25 years of various HR roles and reflects a diverse experience base acquired across various industries, geographies and organisational set-ups.

Adrian was the Managing Director in charge of the Human Resources function at the European Bank for Reconstruction and Development (EBRD), where he was responsible for providing HR leadership across the EBRD, leading the development and implementation of the HR Strategy in partnership with the Bank's broader corporate leadership group as well as advising the senior management of the Bank and members of the Board of Directors on all matters related to HR.

Previously he was Chief Human Resources Officer and a member of the Executive Committee of OC Oerlikon, a major Swiss global industrial group, where he was accountable for the HR strategy, organisation, systems and processes of the company which had over 17,000 employees across 38 countries of operation.

Adrian has spent his entire career in HR and has held significant positions in Unilever, Mars Inc, Reader's Digest, and LG Electronics. He began his career with Coca-Cola. At various times he has lived and worked in Romania, Austria, The Netherlands, United States, United Arab Emirates, Switzerland and United Kingdom.

Omar Majid

HEARTLANDS
COMMUNITY TRUST

Station Road, Wood Green, London, N22 7ST

T 020 8826 1230

F 020 8826 1231

E office@heartlands.haringey.sch.uk