16th October World Food day - The 2014 World Food Day theme is "Family Farming: Feeding the world, caring for the earth" and has been chosen to raise the profile of family farming and smallholder farmers. World Food Day was established by Food and Agriculture Organisation's (FAO) Member Countries at the Organisation's twentieth general conference in November 1979. The date chosen - 16 October - is the anniversary of FAO's founding in 1945.

A total of 842 million people in 2011–13, or around one in eight people in the world, were estimated to be suffering from chronic hunger, regularly not getting enough food to conduct an active life. This figure is lower than the 868 million reported with reference to 2010–12. The total number of undernourished has fallen by 17 percent since 1990–92.

This year's World Food Day and FAO 2014 International Year of Family Farming (IYFF) communications toolkit provides tools and suggestions for informing and engaging the public, schools and families in family farming-related activities. Read through the texts provided in this section for key messages and tips. Use the toolkit videos and promotional materials to increase awareness and understanding of the challenges faced by family farmers and smallholders.

Learn more about why family farming is important and help spread the word! Learn more about the International Year of Family farming by downloading this tri-fold leaflet. Fold the page along the two middle sections for a compact and informative leaflet.
