

World Book Day Readers at Maryvale

On World Book Day, four of our Key Stage 3 students showed generosity and eloquence in reading for reception children at Maryvale. Halton Besong, Kimberleigh Stanford, Ethan Aspinall, and Andre Iyangbe were all active ambassadors for the school, as they braved blizzard conditions to walk down the hill and join in the fun. The reception class were very excited to see them, and responded very well to the reading.

All four Cardinal students were very compassionate to the little ones, and read superbly for them. Ethan showed maturity, Andre got through several books, Kimberleigh put a lot of expression in, and Halton injected his usual comedy. It was great to see these students giving something back, and engaging with the World Book Day vibe in such an intentional manner. Thank you and well done!
